First public lecture describing his recent trip to China will be presented by Sherman E. Lee, director of the Cleveland Museum of Art, on Wednesday, February 13, at 5:30 p.m. in the Museum auditorium. There will be no admission charge.

Entitled, "Art and Archeology in China - November 1973," the hour-long lecture will be illustrated by numerous color slides.

Dr. Lee, a widely-recognized authority on Oriental art, was leader of a group of 12 American art historians and archeologists on a month-long tour arranged by the Committee on Scholarly Communication with the People's Republic of China.

The group visited museums, tombs, archeological sites, and other points of interest in or near nine cities, including Peking, Nanking, Shanghai, and Canton.
